For almost 10 years, PROVIDENCE DAY SCHOOL (PDS) has been a leader in the development of education for the 21st century with a focus on individuality, social responsibility, and cross-cultural awareness. PDS is a leader in the independent school community, and its students receive an education that prepares them for life in a rapidly changing world. Three decades ago, the PDS Board of Trustees implemented a new vision for the school’s future, focusing on excellence, innovation, and student growth. Today, PDS is recognized as one of the leading independent schools in the nation and a leader in the independent school community. Three years ago, I connected with a public school urban educator, and we started a dialogue from our own perspectives and passed the discussion model of a graduate program to our student community. This graduate program, the Providence Urban Grad Program (PUGS) is one of the leading programs in the nation and a leader in the independent school community. PUGS is a leader in the development of education for the 21st century with a focus on individuality, social responsibility, and cross-cultural awareness.
