To achieve those goals, TWS will open its first satellite campus in Brooklyn, NY, and it anticipates opening additional campuses over the next decade as organizational capacity permits. Over the past decade, TWS has developed a series of groundbreaking educational programs and proved that it is possible to maintain and even exceed the high standards of Winchendon’s education and service learning on a less expensive and more accessible basis.

This mission translates to the following goals:

• More students if we could successfully deliver our Winchendon education

• To a greater group of kids each year on a less expensive and more accessible basis?

• Wouldn’t we be doing a better job of serving our mission and guiding principles. We will be doing

• That mission translates to the following goals:

• More students if we could successfully deliver our Winchendon education

• To a greater group of kids each year on a less expensive and more accessible basis?

• Wouldn’t we be doing a better job of serving our mission and guiding principles. We will be doing

• The Winchendon School (TWS) has a unique model that fits TWS’s core mission and enables it to be an effective means of reaching the goals that our founders and predecessors created in TWS. To achieve these goals, TWS aims to open satellite campuses in strategic locations, which will enable it to continue Winchendon’s legacy of supporting deserving students and providing them with a highly differentiated education on a more accessible basis. This will allow TWS to serve students who would only achieve their potential if they were given the opportunity to study at TWS’s Winchendon campus.

• The mission of Winchendon was founded in 1926, and its core values include a belief in providing a high-quality education to students from a wide range of abilities and backgrounds. Winchendon is committed to providing these opportunities to students who might not otherwise have the means to attend a prestigious boarding school.

• The satellite campuses will be designed to serve the needs of students who might not otherwise have the means to attend a prestigious boarding school. Each campus will serve about 200 ninth to 12th-graders in or adjacent to major urban centers. The satellite schools will be specifically focused on students who will benefit most from Winchendon’s individualized and highly contextual programs. The students will be immersed in TWS’s faculty professional development program. Today, Winchendon has more than 200 staff members, including librarians, school counselors, and religious advisors. This faculty professional development program is an important part of Winchendon’s commitment to providing a high-quality education to all students.

• Each campus will be designed to serve the needs of students who might not otherwise have the means to attend a prestigious boarding school. Each campus will serve about 200 ninth to 12th-graders in or adjacent to major urban centers. The satellite schools will be specifically focused on students who will benefit most from Winchendon’s individualized and highly contextual programs. The students will be immersed in TWS’s faculty professional development program. Today, Winchendon has more than 200 staff members, including librarians, school counselors, and religious advisors. This faculty professional development program is an important part of Winchendon’s commitment to providing a high-quality education to all students.

• The satellite campuses will be designed to serve the needs of students who might not otherwise have the means to attend a prestigious boarding school. Each campus will serve about 200 ninth to 12th-graders in or adjacent to major urban centers. The satellite schools will be specifically focused on students who will benefit most from Winchendon’s individualized and highly contextual programs. The students will be immersed in TWS’s faculty professional development program. Today, Winchendon has more than 200 staff members, including librarians, school counselors, and religious advisors. This faculty professional development program is an important part of Winchendon’s commitment to providing a high-quality education to all students.

• Each campus will serve about 200 ninth to 12th-graders in or adjacent to major urban centers. The satellite schools will be specifically focused on students who will benefit most from Winchendon’s individualized and highly contextual programs. The students will be immersed in TWS’s faculty professional development program. Today, Winchendon has more than 200 staff members, including librarians, school counselors, and religious advisors. This faculty professional development program is an important part of Winchendon’s commitment to providing a high-quality education to all students.

• Each campus will serve about 200 ninth to 12th-graders in or adjacent to major urban centers. The satellite schools will be specifically focused on students who will benefit most from Winchendon’s individualized and highly contextual programs. The students will be immersed in TWS’s faculty professional development program. Today, Winchendon has more than 200 staff members, including librarians, school counselors, and religious advisors. This faculty professional development program is an important part of Winchendon’s commitment to providing a high-quality education to all students.

• Each campus will serve about 200 ninth to 12th-graders in or adjacent to major urban centers. The satellite schools will be specifically focused on students who will benefit most from Winchendon’s individualized and highly contextual programs. The students will be immersed in TWS’s faculty professional development program. Today, Winchendon has more than 200 staff members, including librarians, school counselors, and religious advisors. This faculty professional development program is an important part of Winchendon’s commitment to providing a high-quality education to all students.